Financial Management

Most business owners are not trained professionally in accounting or finance; but given the uncertain nature of business and economic cycles combined with an increasingly rapid rate to technological change, monitoring the financial condition of a business and making sound financial decisions has never been more important. This course addresses the role of a "money manager" and the need for continuous financial management and control.

NOTE: Early registration is necessary, as this course will involve the advance receipt and completion of workbook and online quizzes and assignments by way of email, as well as the one-day session to review all material and prepare for writing the examination.

Course Content:

- Understanding the two key financial statements: Balance Sheet and Income Statement.
- Analyzing the Balance Sheet and Income Statement through the use of ratios;
- Profit planning and cash budgeting;
- Cash flow forecasting;
- Managing growth; and
- Dealing with financial sources and bankers.

Duration:

Online home study of approximately 10-12 hours that must be completed at least 21 days prior to the in-class session - see the website for full details on all Policies and Procedures, including our Refund Policy.
